BATTLE ALMOST AT A STANDSTILL

FIGHTING IN FLANDERS AND FRANCE IS GROWING VERY MILD

TROOPS GIVEN A SHORT LEAVE

It Is Said 7,000,000 Men Are Engaged in the Battles on the Russo-German Frontiers.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—The extreme cold weather and the exhaustion of the troops have virtually brought the battle in Flanders and France to a standstill. A desultory artillery duel continues at some points along the wide front and there has been an occasional infantry attack, but for the last three days the fighting has been mild compared with the fierceness of that which for more than a month preceded it.

The Germans, it is thought, have sent their best troops to the eastern front and even in big guns the Allies appear to have the advantage. There are no signs, however, of an offensive on a large scale on the present A. lines, who doubtless are as badly in need of rest as their opponents. In fact, it is stated that officers and men who have borne the brunt of the fighting in the trenches are being given a short leave.

This together with the cancellation of the order for the removal of shipping from Dunkirk, is taken to indicate that the Allies consider their positions safe and that they do not contemplate an immediate forward movement.

For this reason, and because the result will have an important bearing on the war, interest is still centered on the battle in Poland. As has been the case heretofore when important events were impending, little news is coming from either Petrograd or Berlin. It is known, however, that the Germans are offering stubborn resistance to the Russian advance in East Prussia.

General von Hindenburg, commander of the German troops, and Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russians, two of the greatest strategists the war has produced, are maneuvering for positions between the Vistula and the Warta, and a big battle is in progress on the Cracow-Zienstochow line between Russian and Austro-German forces.

An unofficial dispatch coming through Rome says the Russians repulsed two attacks before Cracow but beyond the Russian official statement that the Russians have had partial success northwest of Lodz there is nothing to indicate how things are going.

In Socialist quarters in Copenhagen which are in touch with the Socialists of Berlin, it is said that 7,000,000 men are engaged in the battles on the Russo-German frontiers, 3,000,000 on the Austro-German side and 4,000,000 Russians.

The Serbian retreat from Valjevo is described from Nish as a strategic movement but the loss of guns and prisoners is admitted.

Considering Application of Frank's Attorneys

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Justice Lamar today took under consideration the application of attorneys for Leo M. Frank for a writ of error directing the Georgia courts to send to the supreme court for review the record on which the factory superintendent was convicted and sentenced to death for the murder of Mary Phagan.

For an hour and a half the attorneys argued that Frank had been denied a federal right when the jury returned its verdict during his absence from the court room. As they left the justices' home, they stated that they did not expect him to announce his decision on the application for several days.

Justice Brandeis, of New York, today left the city after making his argument to the justice for Frank, but Henry Peoples and Harry Alexander, of Atlanta, also of counsel for Frank, remained in the city, possibly to present the application to other justices should Justice Lamar decline to issue the writ.

Steamer Detained.
LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Norwegian steamer "Tyr" has been detained at Glasgow, according to a dispatch to the Central News. The correspondent says 4,000 tons of copper ore, which is contained in two large holds in the bottom of the steamer's holds, is being examined.

CONDITION OF RESERVE BANKS

First Statement Made Public Saturday by Federal Reserve Board.

DETAILED STATEMENT TO BE ISSUED WEEKLY

Reports Are Encouraging and Outlook for Business is Stated as Satisfactory.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The first statement of the condition of the twelve federal reserve banks was made public today by the federal reserve board. It includes operations for the five preceding days and is preliminary to detailed statements hereafter to be issued weekly.

Members of the board did not expect rediscouping operations or takings of federal reserve notes to be large until the banks were in better working condition with their first reserve installments collected and the way paved for handling commercial business for member banks.

The statement of condition follows:

Cash on hand: Gold coin and certificates $203,415,000; legal tender silver certificates, etc., $37,308,000; total $240,723,000; rediscoups $5,607,000; all other assets $95,000; total $246,425,000.

Capital paid in $18,072,000; reserve deposits $27,138,000; federal reserve notes in circulation $1,215,000; total $246,425,000.

Gold reserves against all liabilities 35 per cent; cash reserve against all liabilities after setting aside 40 per cent gold reserve against federal reserve notes in circulation 105 per cent.

"Rediscouping" privileges have been availed of to a considerable extent in New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City," said the board in its supplemental statement.

"Elsewhere the showing is much smaller. Federal reserve notes to meet local demands have been issued principally in Chicago, New York and Minneapolis, but every bank has been supplied with an adequate quantity of notes to meet its needs. The relatively small amount of rediscoups as compared with the resources of the system is due to the policy of the federal reserve board in encouraging the payment of reserve deposits in actual money instead of in rediscouped paper. Rates of rediscoups established a week ago were fixed with this policy in mind. Reports from all the districts are of an encouraging nature and the outlook for business is stated as satisfactory.

"The establishment of the system has already had an important effect in increasing the leading power of the local banks. In addition to the loan power of the federal reserve banks."

COTTON CROP GREATEST EVER

Indicated in the Census Bureau Fifth Ginning Report of the Season.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Possibility of this year's cotton crop equaling or perhaps exceeding the greatest crop heretofore grown was indicated today in the census bureau's fifth ginning report of the season, which showed the quantities of cotton ginned to November 14 would be between 15,500,000 and 16,000,000 bales.

The ginning for the period from November 1 to 14 established a record of 1,795,282 bales, exceeding last year by 152,000 bales and 1913 by 455,000 bales. For the season this year's ginnings exceeded the record by 811,000 bales.

In Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and Oklahoma new records for ginning to November 14 were established.

American Steamer Seized on High Seas

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 21.—The American steamer Sacramento, until a few months ago the German steamer Alexandria, has put into Valparaiso with a story charging violation of neutrality. The Sacramento left San Francisco for Valparaiso flying the stars and stripes October 15. Captain Jacobson declared his steamer was seized on the high seas by a German warship, taken to Juan Fernandez Island, belonging to Chile, and obliged to turn over his provisions and 6,000 tons of coal. An investigation has been begun.

Arrives at Valparaiso.
VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 21.—The American steamer Sacramento, formerly the German steamer Alexandria, arrived at this port today in ballast, bringing from Juan Fernandez Island the crew of the French bark Valentine, sunk by the German cruiser Dresden. The Valentine was last reported at Port Talbot July 23.

TURKEY EXPLAINS TO UNITED STATES

Shots Fired Toward American Cruiser Tennessee's Launch Were Intended Merely as the Customary Warning That the Port Was Mined and Closed to Navigation—All Danger of Serious Complications Has Disappeared.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Turkey has explained voluntarily to the United States government, through Ambassador Morgenthau, that shots fired toward the American cruiser Tennessee's launch last Monday were intended merely as the customary warning that the port of Smyrna was mined and closed to navigation.

Although the explanation is informal it was admitted tonight at the White House and the state and navy departments that all danger of serious complications had disappeared.

Ambassador Morgenthau reported that two members of the Ottoman cabinet had fully explained the occurrence and high officials here said his message was filed before instructions sent to him from Washington to discuss the subject officially with the grand vizier could have been received. President Wilson and his cabinet regard the explanation as a certain precursor of a satisfactory formal explanation and guarantees by the Turkish government for the protection of Americans and their interests.

The message from Mr. Morgenthau dated November 16 and delayed en route, relieved a delicate situation. It arrived late in the day and was discussed at a conference tonight between the president, Secretary Daniels and Acting Secretary Lansing, of the state department.

After the conference the following statement was issued at the White House: "Dispatches concerning the Smyrna incident have just been received from Ambassador Morgenthau which were sent before he had received any communication from the state department. He informs the government that on the evening of the day on which the incident occurred, on Monday last, the Ottoman minister of the interior informed him that the commander of the Tennessee had attempted to visit Smyrna in his steam launch, passing through the mine zone, contrary to the Turkish government's regulations, and that the boat had been stopped by warning shots fired towards her."

He added that the governor general, after the incident, had offered to take the officer overland in his automobile. The minister of war later communicated with the ambassador, fully informing him of the incident and requesting that the Tennessee, which then was at Vourla, some distance from the harbor of Smyrna, should be withdrawn.

"The embassy sometime ago had been officially informed that the port of Smyrna was closed alike to warships and merchant vessels. The ambassador therefore requested Captain Decker to withdraw and he, of course, did so, proceeding to the island of Chios."

"Owing to the extreme difficulty of communicating with Constantinople, no further advice have yet been received. Instructions already had been sent to the ambassador. We are still awaiting the ambassador's reply to those instructions."

The fact that the governor-general of Smyrna had offered to take Captain Decker, of the Tennessee, by automobile to the American consulate at Smyrna, officials declare indicated clearly the friendliness of the Turkish officials.

Secretary Daniels announced today that his orders to the commanders of the Tennessee and North Carolina, suspending navy regulations which give them wide discretion, would be rescinded tomorrow, the captains will be given the same latitude they previously had enjoyed. The vessels may not remain in Turkey's territorial waters, but will stay within a half day's sail in some of the islands now belonging to Greece.

There is some question in the minds of diplomats here as to the right of a small boat to enter a closed port. By its size and equipment its mission is obviously friendly. There is no exact precedent, however, and as the incident occurred within the territorial waters of Turkey, the sovereign right of the latter to make and enforce her own regulations is recognized. Should it be necessary for launches to enter Turkish ports in the future, it is considered probable that previous arrangement will be made. Officials are at a loss to understand why such an arrangement was not made in the case of the Tennessee's launch.

That Smyrna presents almost a special case as apart from the entire situation in Turkey, is the belief of officials familiar with the trend of previous dispatches. The American colony of 50 has been reported as panicky ever since last May. Before Turkey entered the war the American consul often was anxious for the safety of his consulate and Americans. Ambassador Morgenthau once asked for warships. Since then conditions were reported as improved.

While the Washington government does not anticipate difficulty over conditions at Smyrna, it may indicate clearly to Turkey an urgent desire for protection of Americans so that it will not be necessary to send American vessels. This guarantee, it is believed, may be extended to Amer-

MANY INTERNED.
Authorities Adopting Severe Measures Against English People Remaining in Vienna.

(By Associated Press.)
VENICE, via Paris, Nov. 20.—Vienna authorities are adopting severe measures against English people remaining in that city. During the past few days many Britishers have been interned, and the rest is expected to be interned by the end of the week.

It is thought inadvisable to publish the recommendations of the New York bankers until the London bankers have considered them fully and acted upon them.

"The situation here has materially improved since Sir George and Mr. Blackett came to America and their visit has been exceedingly valuable in bringing about a clearer understanding on both sides of the water of existing conditions. Commercial and financial relations between Great Britain and this country are large and intricate that fuller understanding of the problems caused by the war is mutually beneficial. The visit of Sir George and Mr. Blackett has accomplished this already. It was a gracious act on the part of the chancellor of the exchequer to let them come to Washington."

Provision for Belgian Relief.
LONDON, Nov. 21.—A shipload of provisions purchased by Americans for Belgian relief was dispatched today on the steamer Jan Block, which sailed from London for Rotterdam with 700 tons of wheat, 500 tons of flour, 600 tons of rice and 200 of peas.

OFFICIALS ARE LESS OPTIMISTIC

NEGOTIATIONS FOR CLEARING UP FINANCIAL SITUATION HALTED

SIR GEORGE PAISH GOES TO LONDON

Called Home by Chancellor Lloyd George to Explain the American Proposals.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Negotiations for clearing up the international financial situation and paying the way for reopening of the London and New York stock exchanges, were halted today when Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, of the English treasury, left suddenly for New York. They expect to sail next week for England, where, according to Secretary McAdoo, they have been called by Chancellor Lloyd George to explain the American proposals sent to London several weeks ago by cable.

The message recalling Sir George evidently came as a surprise and some officials were inclined tonight to be less optimistic than during the past few days about the success of the American plans. It was recalled that English bankers were not at all anxious to have Sir George come to America, for it was said it was hard for them to understand American unwillingness to pay obligations in gold when this nation has a stock of that metal at least three times as large as that in the Bank of England.

The point on which the English bankers are believed to desire a personal explanation from Sir George is the creation of a $100,000,000 credit fund by the Bank of England to protect American securities, which may be sold on the reopening of the London exchange.

Some officials here felt that Sir George and Mr. Blackett will use all possible arguments to have the plans endorsed by their government and by English bankers.

Whatever may be the ultimate result, however, the negotiations probably will be suspended for some time. Further representation probably will be made through the British ambassador.

There was a belief in some quarters here tonight that the fact that London bankers were not wholly pleased with the plans proposed had been known in New York and that the promised reopening to a limited degree of the New York exchange was delayed on this account.

Announcing the departure of Sir George, Secretary McAdoo gave out this statement:

"Sir George Paish has just informed me that he has received a cable from England, saying suggestions submitted by the committee of New York bankers are under consideration by London bankers but as some points are not clear the chancellor of the exchequer has requested Sir George and Mr. Blackett to return to England to explain the situation more fully. They expect to sail, therefore, within the next few days."

It is thought inadvisable to publish the recommendations of the New York bankers until the London bankers have considered them fully and acted upon them.

"The situation here has materially improved since Sir George and Mr. Blackett came to America and their visit has been exceedingly valuable in bringing about a clearer understanding on both sides of the water of existing conditions.
